No one is Immune - Business Resilience is Crucial

Data breaches and ransomware are expensive and time consuming and if not rectified correctly can have lasting impacts on an organisation's operations and brand. The global average cost of a data breach is $3.94 million. (Ouch)

How can you help your customers build resiliency?

Even with the best security training, organisations need to be prepared for the "one person who clicked." AvePoint's Cloud Backup provides:

- Early warning signals through detection of anomaly and encryption – even for attacks that stretch over the course of weeks or months.
- Reporting that allows administrators to determine impacted scopes, which could greatly help to shorten investigation and restore time.
- Minimise disruption for users with easy restores. Shorten investigation and restore time with detailed reports, allowing administrators to determine impacted scopes efficiently.

Your customers will rely on you to provide the best, most comprehensive solution, and AvePoint has it!

“ We chose AvePoint’s Cloud Backup for the reporting and restore capabilities along with the ability to backup additional applications like Microsoft Teams and Planner. The reporting is very transparent and flexible from restoration and searching. It enables up to four incremental backups per day. This gives us the ability to perform a more specific restoration depending on how frequently content is being updated and changed. ”
